Report Outline

This report will include these additional sections:

- II. Background / Overview
- III. Methodology
- IV. Twitter: Hashtags / Search, Deleted Accounts / Limited Accounts
- V. QAnon: Overview, Web Sites
- VI. QAnon Key Phrases
- VII. Analysis of Tweet Replies to Flynn Family Video posted July 4, 2020

The following Appendices are provided at the end of or attached to this document:

- APPENDIX A. Academic Vita
- APPENDIX B. Screen shots of News Stories about the Flynn Family Video
- APPENDIX C. Tweets from Verified Accounts from 07/04-07/07/2020 about the Flynn Family Video with QAnon reference.
- APPENDIX D. Spreadsheet related to General Flynn's Replies

II. Background / Overview

Like thousands of Twitter users beginning June 24, 2020, General Michael Flynn posted a video to a Twitter tweet on July 4, 2020, that contained the hashtag #TakeTheOath. The #TakeTheOath hashtag was characteristically embedded on tweets that included a video of the poster, sometimes alone or with others, performing the similar steps of raising the right hand, stating the traditional "oath of office" taken by federal government employees, appointees, congresspersons, judges, and even the President and Vice President of the United States before they begin their official duties, and ending with the phrase "where we go one, we go all." Like all the other #TakeTheOath video tweets, the video posted by General Flynn of his family included the symbolic recitation of "where we go one, we go all", a key phrase used by QAnon, an American political conspiracy theory and political movement that originated in 2017. CNN included a roughly two second portion of the video where General Flynn says the "where we go one, we go all" phrase in a Donie O'Sullivan publication, entitled "Watch CNN go inside a gathering of QAnon followers." Five members of General Flynn's family stood beside the General with their right hands raised as he recited the phrase, including Valerie Flynn, Joseph Flynn, Lori Flynn, John "Jack" Flynn, and Leslie Flynn. The Flynn family members are not named in the report and do not speak any words in the report. Four of the five Flynn family members standing alongside General Flynn have sued CNN (each except for Joseph Flynn, Valerie Flynn's husband). Plaintiffs claim they are not associated with QAnon, and CNN wrongfully made that association.

At the core of the issue is the use of the phrase "Where we go one, we go all", often abbreviated as the acronym "WWG1WGA." Of equal importance, is the use of the hashtag, "#TakeTheOath." The General Flynn family video/tweet posted to Twitter on July 4, 2020, hereafter referred to as the "Flynn Family Video", contained both. Shortly after General Flynn posted his tweet, his brother, Jack Flynn, retweeted General Flynn's tweet and added a caption with the acronym "WWG1WGA."

This analysis examines the origin, utilization, and occurrence of the WWG1WGA acronym and the #TakeTheOath hashtag in social media and provides an examination of tweets and other Internet search results related to both. It will be shown that WWG1WGA is one of the most recognizable phrases associated with QAnon. Furthermore, the #TakeTheOath hashtag originated from a directive of the person posting as "Q," that became a movement of QAnon followers and, at its origin, included one of QAnon's most recognizable phrases, "Where we go one, we go all." The analysis will show that the association of the Flynn Family Video to QAnon was widely recognized and documented online after General Flynn posted the Flynn Family Video to Twitter and before the CNN publication at issue in this lawsuit.

This document begins with a discussion about Twitter and other social media platforms as to the use of hashtags, the ability to search using hashtags, and social media accounts that have been recently limited or deleted. This is followed by an overview of QAnon as well as the web sites and keywords that are associated with it. Included in the QAnon overview, the origin, use, and frequency of occurrence of the key phrase WWG1WGA and the #TakeTheOath hashtag are examined. Tweets from verified Twitter accounts during the days after the Flynn Family Video was posted as well as web sites and news agency coverage that associated the Flynn Family Video with QAnon are provided. An analysis of the replies to the Flynn Family Video is then presented.

II. Methodology

Some of the information for this report was found online through Google and Bing search engines. All information found on various websites is referenced with a link to the website.

Some of the tweets found on Twitter were obtained using the built in advanced search tool on http://twitter.com. Larger data sets obtained from Twitter were generated with a Python program using the Tweepy plugin that contained search parameters similar to the advanced search tool in Twitter. Large data sets used for analysis are electronically appended to this report.

Some screenshots provided throughout this document are from the QAnon website http://qanon.pub. (The origin of QAnon and its websites are discussed later in this report.) QAnon posts that were published by the Internet poster known as "Q" on the QAnon website http://8kun.top are duplicated and numbered on other websites such as http://qanon.pub, to name a couple. The website http://qanon.pub, is an accurate list of all posts made by Q in comparison to other similar sites like http://qanon.pub is an accurate list of all posts made by Q in comparison to other similar sites like http://qanon.pub is an accurate list of all posts made by Q in comparison to other similar sites like http://qanon.pub is an accurate list of all posts made by Q in comparison to other similar sites like http://qanon.pub is an accurate list of all posts made by Q in comparison to other similar sites like http://qanon.pub printable color scheme. After scrolling entirely through the web site, searches were done using the built in search ability of Firefox, the browser that I used for all. Each Q post on http://qanon.pub provides a direct link back to the original Q post made on http://skun.top.

III. Twitter: Hashtags / Search, Deleted Accounts / Limited Accounts

Hashtags / Search

People who post tweets on Twitter often include a hashtag that provides an easy way for readers to categorize, find and join conversations on a particular topic. Also, hashtags are sometimes included on a person's Twitter banner, the rectangular area at the top of a Twitter user's page, that quickly lets their followers know who they are and what they support.

Any Tweet posted on a public account can be searched by anyone unless Twitter has deleted the account or removed the tweet from search because its content has been deemed inappropriate or misinformation.

As seen with major movements that started (and grew), a hashtag can be used in searches and will bring people together who may have never been associated with each other otherwise.

#ALSIceBucketChallenge is an excellent example of how a hashtag can take on a life of its own, starting as a conversation, inspiring people in a moment, and then becoming a movement that resonates with many people. #ALSIceBucketChallenge is a fund-raising event that raised millions for ALS. The #ALSIceBucketChallenge encourages participants to be filmed with having a bucket of ice water poured on their heads and then nominating others to do the same (source:

https://www.nytimes.com/2014/08/18/business/ice-bucket-challenge-has-raised-millions-for-als-association.html).

Much like the #ALSIceBucketChallenge movement, the use of the #TakeTheOath hashtag assimilated people who were motivated to join the movement – or mission, as it is called in the QAnon community - and provide their own tweet including a video of themselves performing the ceremonial raising of the right hand, stating the "oath of office", and ending with the QAnon phrase "where we go one, we go all."

Twitter Deleted Accounts/ Limited Accounts

Social media often deletes or disables accounts that are found to contain inappropriate content or provide misinformation.

On July 21, 2020, about 2 weeks after the Flynn Family Video was posted, Twitter reported that it was suspending QAnon Twitter accounts because of their "potential to lead to offline harm" (source: https://twitter.com/TwitterSafety/status/1285726277719199746?s=20).

It was reported by NBC News that "Twitter bans 7,000 QAnon accounts, limits 150,000 others as part of broad crackdown" (source: https://www.nbcnews.com/tech/tech-news/twitter-bans-7-000-qanon-accounts-limits-150-000-others-n1234541). The NBC News article includes the following embedded image.

Figure 2. NBCNews.com image of video link to report of Flynn Family Video https://www.nbcnews.com/tech/tech-news/twitter-bans-7-000-qanon-accounts-limits-150-000-others-n1234541

The image appears directly below the following text: "[t]he conspiracy theory's roots grew from Pizzagate, which claimed that Hillary Clinton ran a pedophilia ring from a Washington, D.C. pizza shop." The image linked to a video of MSNBC coverage from July 6, 2020. (MSNBC video: https://www.msnbc.com/msnbc/watch/fmr-nsa-michael-flynn-takes-qanon-oath-on-independence-day-87107141992) That video includes portions of the Flynn Family Video where the Flynn family members repeat "so help me god" and "where we go one we go all" after General Flynn. The video was played after the MSNBC panel discusses at length General Flynn's association with QAnon and its "crazy" conspiracy theories.

On January 12, 2021, Twitter announced that it was suspending 70,000 Twitter accounts that were associated with QAnon. (source https://blog.twitter.com/en_us/topics/company/2021/protecting--the-conversation-following-the-riots-in-washington--). The announcement explains that "accounts that have Tweeted or Retweeted [QAnon] associated content will continue to be subject to limited visibility across search, replies, and on timelines and are prohibited from being recommended to others by Twitter."

A limitation of the Twitter analysis for this report is that over 70,000 QAnon Twitter accounts have been removed, disabled, or suspended. It is not known how many of these accounts have been reinstated. As such, these tweets will not be included in the analysis that appears later in this report. The effect of the elimination of content from these inaccessible QAnon accounts on any analysis would skew any results away from QAnon association. As such, any derived analysis that assesses the perceived public opinion of QAnon association to the Flynn's and their family video would be affected as to be less associated with QAnon. Were all treats visible, the association between the Flynn Family Video and QAnon would be even more clear.

Another limitation is that some accounts were banned, but later reinstated. Some of these accounts have had their content removed from search results. This includes the Twitter account for @GenFlynn, whose account was suspended on January 8, 2021, and then reinstated on January 6, 2023. The following screenshot shows that Twitter search results for @GenFlynn prior to 01/06/23 are not available.

Figure 3. Twitter Search performed 04/05/2023 for tweets from @GenFlynn between 10/01/2010 and 01/06/2023 https://twitter.com/search?q=(from%3AGenFlynn)%20until%3A2023-01-06%20since%3A2010-01-30&src=typed_query&f=live

It is possible for a user to scroll through the user's tweets, but this is cumbersome and difficult for analytic purposes. It should also be noted that Twitter only displays a user's last 800 tweets (in the tweets tab) and last 3,200 tweets and replies (in the tweets and replies tab) (source https://help.twitter.com/en/using-twitter/missing-tweets). It is possible that a person's tweets would not appear in search results using an earlier date range if the user had posted over 800 tweets since that date.

Another limitation is that Jack Flynn, @gojackflynn, deleted his account and so his Tweets are not visible or searchable except through the Internet archive.

IV. QAnon: Overview and Web Sites

Overview and Growth of QAnon

QAnon is a right-wing online movement that originated on 4chan message boards in October 2017 with posts, hereafter referred to as "Q Drops" ("Q Drop") by an anonymous person calling themself "Q", who claimed to be a government official with top-secret intelligence "Q" clearance.

According to Pew Research, Americans' awareness of the conspiracy theories associated with QAnon increased dramatically from early to late 2020. In a Feb. 18-March 2 survey, about a quarter (23%) of U.S. adults said they had heard "a lot" or "a little" about QAnon. By September of that year, that number had increased to 47% (source: https://www.pewresearch.org/fact-tank/2020/11/16/5-facts-about-the-qanon-conspiracy-theories/). The Flynn Family Video was posted on July 4, 2020, during this period of doubled growth of awareness.

PolitiFact, a nonpartisan fact-checking website created by the Tampa Bay Times, reported that Storyful, a social media research firm, found that membership in 10 large QAnon Facebook groups grew by 600% in March-July of 2020 (source: https://www.politifact.com/article/2020/aug/27/what-qanon-baseless-conspiracy-spilling-us-politic/). This PolitiFact article, dated August 27, 2020, included the following still image of Michael Flynn's family performing their #TakeTheOath video along with a caption tying the Flynn's family's oath to QAnon.

Figure 4. PolitiFact article image associating Flynn Family Video with QAnon https://www.politifact.com/article/2020/aug/27/what-qanon-baseless-conspiracy-spilling-us-politic/

Quoting from the PolitiFact article, "The hashtags that frequently accompany posts about the conspiracy theory include #TheGreatAwakening and #WWG1WGA, which stands for 'where we go one, we go all.' The latter slogan is a kind of oath that QAnon supporters take to pledge themselves as 'digital soldiers' for an upcoming apocalyptic event."

The Anti-Defamation League (ADL) provides a definition of the "Digital Soldier Oath" that is used in the #TakeTheOath movement (source: https://extremismterms.adl.org/glossary/digital-soldier-oath).

QAnon Web Sites and Q Drops

A website used for QAnon followers that provides a data entry form to enter and post information can be found at https://8kun.top/qresearch/index.html. Links to the 8kun.top web site can be found in more easily searchable websites at https://qalerts.app/, https://qalerts.app

Q Drops began on 4chan in October 2017. In November 2017, posts by Q moved to 8chan, with Q citing concerns that the 4chan board had been infiltrated. In August 2019, 8chan was shut down after it was connected with the shooting at a Walmart in El Paso, Texas where more than a dozen people were killed and other violent incidents. Followers of QAnon then moved to Endchan, until 8chan was restored under the name 8kun (source: https://www.adl.org/resources/backgrounder/qanon).

The first Q Drop was made on October 28, 2017. To date, 4966 Q Drops have been made with the latest one dated November 27, 2022. On https://qanon.pub, the Q Drops are numbered in order of date posted from 1 to 4966. Screenshots of Q Drops that follow are taken from https://qanon.pub for easy readability and use of reference numbers.

V. QAnon: Key Phrases

QAnon / WWG1WGA

The phrase "where we go one, we go all" with its acronym "WWG1WGA" is one of the top key phrases associated with QAnon and are found in Q Drops.

The following definition for WWG1WGA was taken from an online article by the Anti-Defamation League, entitled "QAnon: A Glossary" (source: https://www.adl.org/resources/blog/qanon-glossary).

WWG1WGA

Where we go one we go all." Apart from QAnon itself, WWG1WGA is the most common term/hashtag in Q circles. It underscores the community and "togetherness" element of a movement where everyone is a "digital soldier" in the battle to expose the Deep State.

A study published on March 26, 2021, by the Atlantic Council's Digital Forensic Research Lab (@DFRLab), detected and analyzed more than 40 million appearances of QAnon catchphrases and related terms online in a span from January 1, 2020, to April 1, 2021. A graph taken from this study is shown here.

Figure 7. Study by @DFRLabs Showing Frequency of Common QAnon Catch Phrases from January 1, 2020 to April 1, 2021 https://medium.com/dfrlab/qanons-hallmark-catchphrases-evaporating-from-the-mainstream-internet-ce90b6dc2c55

WWG1WGA, highlighted at the bottom of the graph in dark purple, is shown to be the most common phrase associated to QAnon of the 13 phrases analyzed. The use of the acronym peaked at 138,358 occurrences on June 24, 2020, which will be shown to be a key date in the origin of the #TakeTheOath hashtag that General Flynn attached to the Flynn Family Video. On 07/05/2020, one day after the Flynn Family Video was posted, the number of occurrences was slightly lower at 133,766.

The first Q Drop to contain the phrase "where we go one, we go all" is numbered 513 and was posted on January 8, 2018 (source: https://ganon.pub). The complete phrase occurs 22 times in the Q Drops.

Figure 8. First Q Drop to contain "where we go one, we go all" https://ganon.pub #513

The first Q Drop to use the "WWG1WGA" acronym is numbered 992 and was posted on April 2, 2018 (source: https://ganon.pub). The acronym occurs 206 times in the Q Drops.

Twitter Hashtag: #TakeTheOath

The tweet from @GenFlynn embedded the hashtag #TakeTheOath. As discussed above, hashtags are placed on tweets to provide an easy way for people to categorize, find and join a community of conversations on a particular topic.

The following timeline and discussion will show that the #TakeTheOath hashtag originated on June 24, 2020, from Q Drops. The following summary timeline of 15 events beginning on June 24, 2020, provides a quick reference of events around the origin of the #TakeTheOath hashtag. Each of the 15 will be discussed, with references, in the sections that follow.

Q Drop #4506 was posted on June 24, 2020, at 10:22:06 EST, 20 minutes after charges were directed to be dropped against General Flynn. It contains the words, "The People's General. Soon." These words are followed by three stars. Reference: https://ganon.pub #4506.

Figure 12. Q Drop #4506 Posted at 10:22 AM EST https://qanon.pub #4506

The use "The People's General" and the three stars indicate that this is referring to General Flynn, who is a three-star General. A Time online article reports that "Twitter users are showing their support for former National Security Adviser Michael Flynn by adding three star emoji to their handles (source: https://time.com/5474737/twitter-users-support-michael-flynn-three-stars/). Yahoo News also reported that "[a]long with using the #ClearFlynnNow hashtag, users are adding three stars for the three-star general" (source:

https://news.yahoo.com/twitter-users-showing-support-michael-161035251.html). These two articles referenced the following tweet:

General Flynn also uses the three stars on his logos. General Flynn filed a trademark application on 05/06/2020 for "Digital Soldiers" to be used on games, toys, sporting goods and clothing (source:

https://uspto.report/TM/88899480). The following is a screenshot of the Digital Soldiers trademark application. The logo has three stars on the left blue bar.

In all the Q Drops, "Flynn" is referenced 74 times, which includes the 6 times the name appears in the Q Drops during the months of May and June, 2020. ("Flynn" appears in Posts #4213 on 5/11, #4224 on 5/12, #4226 on 5/13, #4231 on 5/13, #4256 on 5/17, #4310 on 5/24, and #4610 on 6/19.)

3. Q Drop #4509 containing 5 Missions was posted June 24 at 12:01:36 PM EST (source: https://ganon.pub #4509).

4. Q Drop #4510, posted June 24 at 12:06:33 EST, contained the oath of office followed by the acronym WWG1WGA with Q's call to action to "Take the Oath. Mission forward." (source: https://ganon.pub #4510).

It should be noted that the people in the Flynn Family Video recited the exact words as found in Q Drop #4510. Additionally, the Flynn Family Video was tagged with the #TakeTheOath hashtag - words that are also found in Q Drop #4510.

The only words recited in the Flynn Family Video that are not found in Q Drop #4510 are the words "God Bless America."

The caption that Jack Flynn added to his retweet contained "WWG1WGA."

The first tweet to appear on Twitter that contains the hashtag #TakeTheOath to be found was posted at 12:24 PM EST. The tweet showed a screen shot of Q Drop #4510 (source: https://twitter.com/kerrloud/status/1275842158411411456).

- 8. Twitter Trends show that #TakeTheOath was trending at #41 with 76.6 thousand tweets on June 25, 2020. This is one day after the Q Drop #4510 call to "Take the Oath" and 10 days before the

9. From June 24, 2020 through July 3, 2020, thousands of Tweets were posted to Twitter that contained the #TakeTheOath hashtag. As stated above, Twitter Trends shows 76.6 thousand tweets containing "#TakeTheOath" were posted on a single day on June 25. Using A Python program with the Tweepy plugin, a data set of tweets was retrieved that contained the hashtag #TakeTheOath from 06/24/2020 to 07/03/2020. I was only able to retrieve 11,541 Tweets over the 10-day span from 06/24 to 07/03. The difference clearly shows the impact to the number of tweets I was able to retrieve given that 70,000 Twitter accounts were suspended. It is unknown how large the #TakeTheOath movement grew from June 24, 2020, through July 3, 2020, because the tweets from the suspended accounts cannot be counted. At a minimum, there were 75.6 thousand tweets posted to Twitter – in a single day - with the #TakeTheOath hashtag that started this QAnon movement and prior to @GenFlynn posting the Flynn Family Video.

Using the text of the #TakeTheOath tweets, I used a Python program to create the following word cloud.

This shows that WWG1WGA and QAnon are the most common words associated with the #TakeTheOath movement.

The breakdown percentages of the larger words in the word cloud are:

10. July 4, 2020 was not the first time @GenFlynn had used the hashtag #TakeTheOath. It was observed by another Twitter user on June 27, 2020, that @GenFlynn changed the banner of his Twitter account to include the #TakeTheOath hashtag (source: https://twitter.com/Saminsunderland/status/1277021433101606912).

The screen shot can be verified using the following link from web.archive.org: https://web.archive.org/web/20200726115802/www.twitter.com/genflynn. As decoded from the link text "20200726115802", the archive was taken on 07/26/2020 at 11:58.

Figure 23. General Flynn adds #TakeTheOath to Twitter banner on 06/26/2020 https://web.archive.org/web/20200726115802/www.twitter.com/qenflynn

As stated earlier, hashtags on a banner put an emphasis on those items that are deemed important to the owner of the account to let followers quickly know who they are and what they support. @GenFlynn's banner was updated to include the #TakeTheOath hashtag 3 days after Q's call to "Take the Oath" started the QAnon movement.

11. The Flynn Family Video was posted to Twitter on July 4, 2020 (source: https://twitter.com/GenFlynn/status/1279590652200849409).

The tweet starts with the hashtag #TakeTheOath. The use of the #TakeTheOath hashtag associates the tweet to tweets made by other Twitter users who had joined the QAnon initiated movement using the same hashtag. The tweet also contains tags beginning with the "@" symbol which is used to identify other twitter users. The Twitter users referenced are family members and attorneys. Tagging the tweet with these Twitter users' account names makes the tweet appear in their "mentions" which makes it easier for them to follow the thread and/or reply to the tweet. The two accounts that are not displayed as links, @GoJackFlynn (Jack Flynn) and @lofly727 (Lori Flynn), are accounts that no longer exist on Twitter.

To date, the video has been viewed over 2.4 million times, retweeted 18.9 thousand times and "liked" 56.5 thousand times. The people who viewed, retweeted and liked this tweet could easily identify that the tweet was associated with the #TakeTheOath movement and that family members were tagged.

An analysis of the limited approximately 4 thousand replies that I was able to retrieve (given the limitation from the 70,000 accounts that Twitter suspended) to this tweet will be presented in a following section and will provide the nature of responses and public sentiment to the Flynn Family Video.

12. Shortly after General Flynn posted his tweet, John "Jack" Flynn retweeted the @GenFlynn tweet and added the caption, "Happy independence Day. WWG1WGA."

13. Many news outlets reported that the Flynn Family Video was related to QAnon. Appendix B contains screen shots of news stories about the Flynn Family Video after 07/04/2020.

Using a Python/Tweepy application, I pulled the tweets containing "Flynn" or "GenFlynn" from verified Twitter users during the week that followed the posting of the Flynn Family Video from 07/04/2020 to 07/7/2020.

Appendix C contains the account name, tweet text/link and account description of these tweets that associated the Flynn Family Video to QAnon.

14. On 07/19/2020 at 10:55:28 PM EST, Q Drop # 4610 is made that recognizes that @GenFlynn changed his banner header picture an hour earlier (11:42:35 PM) to an image that includes WWG1WGA on the top right corner. The added emphasis made to the image using a yellow highlight and a red arrow are part of the original image as it appears in the Q Drop.

15. On 07/21/2020, NBC News reports that "Twitter bans 7,000 QAnon accounts and limits 150,000 others as part of broad crackdown" (source: https://www.nbcnews.com/tech/tech-news/twitter-bans-7-000-qanon-accounts-limits-150-000-others-n1234541).

VI. Analysis of Tweet Replies to Flynn Family Video posted July 4, 2020

Sentiment analysis involves assessing the words and context of each tweet in a collection of tweets to determine if the tweet reflected positive or negative views – or was simply conveying a neutral statement.

Using a Python program with a Tweepy plugin, a collection of tweets that contains the replies to the Flynn Family Video tweet posted by General Flynn on July 4, 2020, was retrieved. The search criteria used was tweets "to @GenFlynn" in the date range of "07/04/2020 to "07/31/2020." The data can be found electronically appended to this report as Appendix D.

The data found in the spreadsheet contains the Author ID, User Name, Followers, Tweet/Link and Conversation ID that was populated with the Python program. I added the columns Sentiment and Negative Reason and used these columns in the sentiment assessment. The initial data that was retrieved was replies to all tweets made by @GanFlynn from 07/04 to 07/31. The data was filtered down to only those tweets having a conversation ID of "1279590652200840000" that indicated that the tweet was made in response to the Flynn Family Video tweet. The resulting data set contains 3983 tweets with textual comments, memes, additional hashtags and videos. The following screenshot, taken from web.archive.com from 07/31/2020 at 5:09, https://web.archive.org/web/20200731050925/www.twitter.com/genflynn shows that 12K replies had been made from 07/04/2020 to 07/31/2020. This means that I was only able to capture about 1/3 of the replies to the Flynn Family Video tweet.

Another Python program that I wrote was used to read in the textual comments of the replies to the Flynn Family Video to create the following word cloud that shows the over-all context of the replies.

The following gives a percentage breakdown of the larger words that appear in the word cloud. Many of the replies used the QAnon key words like "wwg1wga", "qanon", "digitialsoldier." Opposite words like "traitor" and "patriot" also clearly show that sentiment towards the tweet was both negative and positive, with "traitor" ranking higher than patriot.

bless: 100%.
wwg1wga: 95%
general: 75% flynn: 73% traitor: 67% thank: 61% america: 55% happy: 41%
taketheoath: 33%

- patriot: 31%
- country: 30%
- trump: 20%
- american: 20%
- ganon: 18%

In the Sentiment column, I classified each of the 3983 tweets as either Neutral, Negative, Negative Cult/Clan, Negative QAnon, Positive, Positive QAnon, or Positive QAnon Oath. For the Negative, Negative Cult/Clan and Negative QAnon classification, I provided a Negative Reason that contains a short phrase or a word for why it is classified as negative.

The following is a brief explanation of each classification:

Neutral: The sentiment could not be determined or was questionable.

Negative: The sentiment was negative with no reference to QAnon or a cult/clan.

Negative Cult/Clan: The sentiment was negative with reference to a cult/clan (suggesting QAnon).

Negative QAnon: The sentiment was negative with some reference to QAnon or used a QAnon phrase.

Positive: The sentiment was positive with no reference to QAnon. Tweets with "07" are positive (O7 is an emoji salute).

Positive QAnon: The sentiment was positive with a reference to QAnon.

Positive QAnon Oath: The sentiment was positive with a reference to QAnon and the person who was tweeting also provided a videoed oath or indicated that they, too, would be taking the oath.

Some of the replies made a reference or association to QAnon by either attaching a meme, video, hashtag, or actual text with a QAnon reference. Furthermore, the replies that associated the Flynn Family Video with QAnon were found in replies deemed both as Negative and Positive. As an example, a reply that reads "BEST Q PROOF EVER! (Not that we needed it!) WE LOVE YOU!!!! #WWG1WGA" was assessed as Positive with a QAnon reference. On the other side, a reply that reads "QAnon is a fascist cult. You are traitors" was assessed as Negative with a QAnon reference. Any tweet referring to taking the oath, WWG1WGA, purposely misspelled words with "Q", the number 17 (Q is the 17th letter of the alphabet), tin foil hats, Pizzagate, etc. were classified as a QAnon inference.

The following breakdown was found for overall sentiment:

Neutral: 200/3983 5%

Positive: 2253/3983 57% (Positive, Positive QAnon, Positive QAnon Oath) Negative: 1530/3983 38% (Negative, Negative QAnon, Negative Cult/Clan)

The following breakdown shows those replies that associated the Flynn Family Video with QAnon:

 No QAnon Reference:
 2749/3983
 69%

 QAnon Reference:
 1234/3983
 31%

 Positive / QAnon Reference
 945/1234
 77%

 Negative / QAnon Reference
 289/1234

Given that over 70,000 Twitter accounts associated with QAnon have been suspended, the number and percentage of replies that contained a QAnon reference would have been higher than 31%.

VII. Concluding Remarks

The origin of the hashtag #TakeTheOath was a Q Drop on a QAnon website on June 24, 2020. The Q Drop includes the full text of the oath repeated by the Flynn family, including ending with WWG1WGA.

Within minutes of the Q Drop, tweets started being posted to Twitter with people reciting the oath, ending with "where we go one, we go all" in a video and attaching the #TakeTheOath hashtag.

General Flynn was fully aware of the #TakeTheOath movement prior to the posting of the Flynn Family Video having updated his Twitter banner to include #TakeTheOath on June 26, 2020.

General Flynn posted the Flynn Family Video on July 4, 2020, during the period of rapid growth of QAnon on social media and at a time thousands of other people were posting videos with the same ritual using the wording from the Q Drop with instructions to "Take the Oath." Jack Flynn retweeted the post and added a caption containing WWG1WGA.

The dissemination of the Flynn Family Video started when the Flynn family posted it to Twitter. The tweet included the #TakeTheOath hashtag and family members were tagged. To date, the Flynn Family Video has been viewed over 2.4 million times, retweeted 18.9 thousand times and "liked" 56.5 thousand times.

31% of the 3983 replies to the Flynn Family Video associated the tweet with QAnon. That association would have been higher were it not for the suspension of 70,000 Twitter accounts in January 2021

Immediately after the posting of the Flynn Family Video, many news agencies reported on the Flynn Family Video, through web sites and tweets. Because of the use of #TakeTheOath and WWG1WGA, these news agencies associated the Flynn Family Video with QAnon.
